The greatest appeal of private aviation is that it's not commercial aviation. Private aviation avoids the drudgery, rigidity, inefficiency and inconvenience of the commercial airport and airline experience. The benefits of private aviation are significant and substantive, though some are not easily quantified.

Some of the top benefits of flying private:

- Significant time savings
- Avoid crowded commercial terminals - FBO to FBO
- Flexibility in scheduling and flying
- Streamlined airport process
- Personalized service
- Entertaining clients
